

I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it? I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.

— Isaiah 43:19

Join us Sunday, September 27 in Holy Conversations:

God is calling us...

to look for the Holy Spirit at work in us and in the world, as we imagine our future. We are invited, on Sept. 27, to listen and discern together where new life is springing forth. Out of these Holy Conversations we will help each other see and celebrate the “sparks” that ignite our imaginations, and help to shape our ministries to support new life.

This process is an invitation for all of us — young, old and in-between — to open ourselves to practice deeper levels of listening for God’s voice.

How can you prepare for Holy Conversations?

Over the next week, please read this passage from Isaiah and the Romans passage on the back. Pray for the Spirit to give you His discernment about His activity in your life, in this church and in our community. Use the lines to write down any responses you may have—observations, ideas, or questions. Bring this with you to worship on the 27th.

“Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your minds, so that you may discern what is the will of God—what is good and acceptable and perfect.” Romans 12:2

My response:
